County tax rises 2.4 cents

SAN BERNARDINO (CNA) A county tax rate of $2.139 per $100 of assessed valuation, up 2.4 cents from $2.115 a year ago, was adopted Monday by the County Board of Supervisors to raise property owners' share of the record-breaking budget of $99,582,921.

The rate boost was far less than first expected, when Supervisors and Robert A. Covington, administrative officer, predicted an increase of up to 50 cents might be needed.

The budget for the current year is up from $90,488,433 a year ago. However, most of the budget is financed by other sources than the direct tax on local property.

To be raised in the current year by the property tax will be $29,497,946, compared with $27,196,977 last year. More than $70,000,000 in the current year will come to the county from state and federal sources, including $7,428,040 to be spent on roads from gasoline tax revenues.

County expenditures in the coming year will total $101,279,164, if the library tax, special road districts taxes and the Inland Library System are included. These taxes are not levied county-wide, however.

The Board in setting the library tax rate on Monday found three errors had been made in tabulating the department's budget. The final total will be $1,412,709, compared with $1,277,353 last year.

First, $7,534 to furnish the new library in Victorville had been approved by Supervisors but left out of the budget, Robert Rigney, assistant administrative officer, reported to Supervisors.

Then, John Bright, administrative analyst, disclosed that the computer figuring out salaries for part-time workers had set a total as if everybody worked 20 hours per week, while some work up to 35 hours, so that $22,128 more had to be added.

Board members grumbled at the two errors, which resulted in a tax rate of 11.7 cents, up 4 mills from the anticipated rate.

But just before the meeting closed, Miss Dorothy Trevor reported another $27,000 error, putting the rate up 3 more mills.

PUBLIC NUISANCE -- The house that once stood at 351 E. Arrow Hwy. was torn down recently by order of Upland City Council. The Building Department of Upland termed the house "dilapidated and unsightly; a public nuisance"

Students new to the Upland area or just starting school may register any time at the school in their district, according to the Upland Elementary School District office.

and ordered the owners to do something about it. They did nothing, and neighborhood youngsters continued breaking up the floor for firewood, so the Council took the necessary steps for its removal.

Teachers and other personnel of Chaffey Union High School District were voted pay increases Monday night by the CUHS trustees.

Starting pay for teachers was boosted from $5,575 to $6,000 and the top of the schedule went up proportionately from $11,540 to $12,420.

Classified employees received an additional 2%. Their pay was previously boosted 2% last spring by the Board. Monday night's adjourned meeting was set up a week earlier so salaries could be decided when the full board was present.

Supt. Allan Smith, who had been called away because of a death in the family, and who was therefore absent Monday night, had recommended the board take the action it did.

His administrative staff reported to the Board that a survey of 20 other comparable school districts had established that CUHS minimum teacher salary should be $5,963 to compete with the median of those other districts.

However, districts locally and throughout the state have gone to the $6,000 minimum, including elementary districts.

Staying competitive with other districts was the reason given to justify the increased teacher salary schedule.

Cost of living increases were stated as the basic reason for the recommended total 4% hike in the pay of classified personnel. They asked for 3% last spring, were granted 2% by the board, because of a district financial pinch.

That pinch was the reason for the Board's holding off until August the decision on teacher salaries. Just this month the Legislature passed a bill giving the District enough money to meet its desired teacher pay scale and the classified cost of living increase.

When the pay of classified personnel came before the board, it was quickly passed, but more than an hour was devoted to give and take between Board and teacher representatives on the subject of teachers' pay.

Board member William Draper led off the discussion stating that "We all see the need for raising salaries," but opened a discussion of the ratio of the bottom teacher pay to the top, and cost of teacher per pupil.

Draper said that he would like to see a higher starting pay $6,500, to help the district in its competitive battle in hiring good teachers, not putting all the money into the top of the salary schedule.

Top salary in the District is 2.07 times the bottom.

When $425 is added to the bottom (to bring it to $6,000), $880 is added to the top, Board Member A. Richard Allred pointed out.

Mary Hecht and Paul Cushing agreed generally with Draper and Allred.

Cushing said "I don't think (Continued on Page 10)

Major center viewed on Foothill freeway

It's just possible that some major shopping center developer or major department store might want to develop a 50-acre or larger parcel at Mountain and the Foothill Freeway, so the City Planning Commission took a step toward pinning a symbol for such a center on the city's general plan.

Wes Chambers, planning consultant associated with Simon Elser, reported to the Commission at its August meeting that such could be the case in the 1970s.

So the Commission voted 5-0 to have the staff develop a symbol for the general plan for a major (regional) shopping center.

Chambers indicated that it was unlikely for another major center catering to the lower-middle income group in this valley in the foreseeable future.

However, Chambers said, it is likely that one might be developed aimed at the $12,000 to $20,000 income group, somewhere along the Foothill freeway between La Verne and Alta Loma.

His time estimate, based on an inland bank projection by Dr. Gerhardt Rosvold, economist, was 1975, when there will be a half million people in the right economic group within 15 minutes of the center.

Chambers said that the symbol, if adopted, should be pinned to one specific location at the intersection of Mountain and the Foothill Freeway, but it could be developed on one of the other corners not wearing the symbol.

Patio setback issue tabled to Sept. 28

Uplanders wanting to build bigger patios closer to the rear fence will have to wait at least until the Sept. 28 session of the Planning Commission to learn if they can do so legally.

A proposed amendment to zoning regulations would permit a homeowner to build a patio, open on three sides, to within 10 feet of the rear lot line.

Presently the legal limit is 20 feet.

Commissioner Al Canestro introduced a question about limiting the length to perhaps a certain percentage of the width of the house, rather than permitting patio roofs as wide as the house, and so the staff could research that idea, it was voted to table patio setbacks until Sept. 28.

Free — to families Kiwanis plans phone call to Vietnam

Montclair Kiwanis Club wants to hear from Upland parents and wives of servicemen in Vietnam who would like to talk to them by telephone, free.

If enough parents and wives of men serving in Vietnam are interested in a free telephone call, the Kiwanis Vietnam Phone Committee will make arrangements and pay the phone bill.

Tentative time and date for the call are 5:30 to 8 p.m., Nov. 25, the Saturday after Thanksgiving. That time was chosen because 6 to 8 p.m. on Saturday here is 10 a.m. to 12 noon Sunday in Vietnam, which should make it easier for the men in Vietnam to get to the central location.

One hour, perhaps two, will be committed, depending on the response Kiwanis gets from Servicemen's families. Space has been arranged at Tyler's Holiday Restaurant (Holiday Lodge Motel) where families may talk and listen with a special telephone.

When a serviceman is ready on the other end, his family will be called to the room where the special telephone will be hooked up for a private conversation.

It will be possible to make connections in Saigon, and it is hoped that arrangements can be made for a phone line to Da Nang, another center of military activity.

In order to accomplish the phone call, the committee stressed the necessity for a quick return of coupons to the Club, and asked that they be mailed in by next Saturday, Sept. 2. Address is on the coupon.

Heading the committee are Al Gustin and Tom Watson, co-chairmen, and Jack C. George and Walt Orvis.

Anyone needing further information may contact Gustin at 629-9811 days, or 982-6316 after 6 p.m.

Unanswered questions Parcel split for burger stand delayed week

Upland Planning Commission will meet in adjourned session at 7:30 Thursday night to continue discussion, perhaps settle the fate of a proposed parcel map for a piece of land on Foothill between Euclid and Second Ave., on which a McDonald's burger stand has been proposed.

Commissioners voted to continue the discussion one week at the regular meeting last Thursday because of unanswered questions, including one legal knot that remained unanswered.

Owners of the parcel want to split off a 135-foot by 185 foot piece from a larger lot, leaving an L-shaped remainder.

The legal question arose because a 60-foot parcel had previously been approved for a split-off, but all legal requirements have not been met.

In the City's view, expressed by the city staff, the 60-foot parcel is still a part of the original.

Owners of the other part claim they should not be penalized any action or lack of it by the purchaser of the 60-foot parcel.

Another question that arose was access to the rear part of the remaining L-shaped piece if the McDonald's lot was cut out of the larger piece.

Traffic added another unanswered question. The City recently participated in a study of the traffic at Foothill and Second Ave., and a high-volume business in that location might foul up the view expressed at the meeting.

George Brannan, one of the owners, questioned whether owners should be restricted to selling their land to only low volume traffic businesses.

He asked quick action, saying delays let developments go to other towns.

Because of the unanswered questions, the five commissioners present agreed unanimously to the Aug. 31 session to have another go at the proposed parcel split.

Design of a McDonald's "golden arches" is pending before the Architectural Commission. The Architectural board put off a decision on that question until its Sept. 7 meeting.

The hamburger chain is expected to produce a revision of its standard design for the Sept. 7 session.

Warrant for Sandoe arrest issued here

A warrant for the arrest of Karl Frederic Sandoe, 20, of 458 N. First Ave., Upland, has been issued by the West Valley Municipal Court, charging Sandoe on four counts, namely, murder, burglary and two counts of grand theft.

The complaint was signed Monday, Aug. 21 by the Upland Police Department in connection with the death of Paul Rodney Daggs, 72, of 470 N. First Ave., Daggs' body was found on the floor of his bedroom Monday, Aug. 21 about 4:30 p.m. by a housekeeper. Police at first believed the death to be from natural causes.

An abrasion on Daggs' left jaw and subsequent discovery that the victim's 1966 auto was missing started an investigation headed by the John McCarthy of the Upland police.

Sandoe became a suspect when it was learned that he had assumed the identity of his dead 72 year-old neighbor when booked for a robbery in Santa Barbara.

Capt. McCarthy said his department is seeking a murder complaint against Sandoe in connection with Daggs' death.

Upland Police were told Tuesday night by a niece of Daggs' in Carpinteria that a Paul R. Daggs of Ontario was arrested Tuesday, Aug. 22 by Santa Barbara Police for investigation of robbery.

Queries to Santa Barbara revealed Daggs actually was Sandoe. When he was arrested he was driving Daggs' missing car. It was also learned that Sandoe is a

A Community Reflects On Days Long Gone By

By Sue Phillips
Amid the complex and stately structures of modern day living, it is rare and difficult to find an old world building that has not been fenced and slated for the 50 cent tourist admission fee.

A rare find, known only to the people of this area, is the yet unspoiled, serene little church of San Secondo d'Asti in Guasti.

As an early dream of the man whose town bears his name, Secondo Guasti came to this country from Italy and built a replica of his church there.

Guasti's story is typical of others recounted on any tour the reader may choose to take, but the difference is that the heritage left here remains to those here.

Truly the church is the most beautiful part of the modest community. The older residents of the area take it for granted . . . it has always been here and it will always remain. Those who see it for the first time linger and wonder where this entity can fit into the scheme of things as they hear the inevitable rumble of the jet planes coming from the Air National Guard headquarters just to the south. Progress with historical tradition and past stand side by side here.

Approaching the doorway to the church one can almost feel the sacred hush reflecting the spirit of prayer within. Five heavy wrought iron chandeliers hang from the wooden beams of the ceiling with their light exposing the Stations of the Cross in bas-relief along the walls.

To the right of the main doorway is a bronze bust of the late Secondo Guasti greeting the visitors and reminding them of the founder of the community and builder of the church. Guasti came from Italy before the turn of the century, and like others, started with nothing. Before too long he was able to buy a large stretch of land in the Cucamonga valley and transform it from a desert into the largest vineyard in the world. Guasti accomplished this task with the help of many of his Italian countrymen who also came to the United States for a better way of life.

Guasti, being a man of strong religious convictions, wanted to provide for the spiritual needs of his people, so he built the church according to the pattern of his church in San Secondo d'Asti. The walls are some 20 inches thick and are of red brick covered with cement.

In Italy, in the region of Piedmont, the people have a great devotion to Saint Secondo. He was a high ranking officer in the Roman Army, and was martyred for his faith in 120 A.D. For many centuries celebrations have been held each year in honor of San Secondo. Demonstrating their affection for the great saint, many couples have given his name to one of their children. Each morning, glowing with the rays of the rising sun, the big circular stained glass window above the main altar reminds the parish members of St. Secondo d'Asti. The art of the window shows him in purple mantle (the symbol of his rank) covering his shoulder. In his right hand he holds the reins of his horse and with the left hand close to his heart, he holds a picture of the city of Asti. The parish members hope that with the city of Asti, he also keeps the small community of Guasti close to him.

In front of the little church is an elaborate courtyard that was donated to the church and the community by Secondo Guasti Jr.'s mother-in-law as his memorial. Also in the courtyard stands a fountain with two figures that are from one of the original California Missions. The figures are estimated to be over 200 years old.

The bells in the wrought iron tower were all hand forged in Mexico. The church itself was completed in 1926, only a few months before the death of Guasti. He attended his church a hand full of times before he belonged to the ages.

History and tradition stand alive in the little community of Guasti, just south of the modern San Bernardino Freeway. The area remains untouched but close to the modern way of the world and the inhabitants wonder how long it will last. But now, at least for a while, they can sit in the shade of a big tree and reflect on the era past.

PEACEFUL SURROUNDINGS -- The church of San Secondo d'Asti reflects the peaceful nature of the small community of Guasti. Father Melee serves as the Parish Priest and has been in his present capacity for the past 3-1/2 years.

Cystic fibrosis march starts Friday

The annual door-to-door campaign of the San Bernardino County Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation will be held Sept. 1-10.

There will be approximately 1500 marchers in Upland and Ontario, making house-to-house appeals to raise funds for cystic fibrosis. Included in these volunteers will be many students representing service clubs from Upland and Chaffey High Schools.

Funds raised through the annual appeal help support a network of 38 Regional Cystic Fibrosis Care, Research and Teaching Centers throughout the United States. These Centers have been established with Foundation assistance.

They are in teaching hospitals affiliated with leading medical schools, such as UCLA medical Center and Children's Hospital in Los Angeles.

In addition, contributions help finance a basic research program which is being conducted by the Foundation. This program encourages eminent investigators in various basic science disciplines to pursue studies which may offer clues to the underlying cause of the disease.

Such fields of basic science include molecular biology, genetics, pharmacology and mucoprotein chemistry. Because of this program, many medical authorities are hopeful of a control for control for cystic fibrosis being developed before many more years have passed--perhaps even within the next decade.

One baby in approximately every thousand is born with cystic fibrosis. The basic chemical defect in this disease is not yet understood, but the result is that the body produces abnormally salty sweat and a thick, gluey mucus.

The abnormal mucus interferes with digestion, clogs air passages and lodges in the lungs. In untreated patients, frequent respiratory infections often lead to lung collapse.

Originally, the disease was thought to be rare and always fatal. It is now known to be one of the most common serious chronic diseases of childhood. With earlier diagnosis and expert treatment, however, many C/F youngsters are growing into adulthood.

Funds raised in the door-to-door campaign do not only advance work being carried on in the Regional Centers and in Basic Research Program. Contributions also help support local programs of chapter services to the C/F child in San Bernardino County.

Children in for 'needling' at Los Angeles Fair

Visitors at the Los Angeles County Fair are in for a lot of needling this year.

Children attending the Fair with their parents will have the opportunity to receive a measles shot free of charge at an immunization booth sponsored by the Los Angeles County Health Department.

Actually, Health Department officials report that they won't be needling at all; doctors during the Fair immunization clinics will be using the hypodermic jet injector gun, which was introduced to children during the department's June measles campaign.

Immunizations against 10-day measles are important to protect children against this serious disease. One out of every thousand children who contract measles also develops measles encephalitis, an inflammation of the brain. Of the children who contract encephalitis, 25% will die and 40 percent will be permanently mentally retarded or physically handicapped. These tragedies are now preventable through immunization, and it takes only one shot of measles vaccine. All children should be immunized against measles.

The County Fair will extend this year from September 15 through Oct. 1. Measles shots will be given daily by the Health Department on each of the 17 days during peak Fair hours. The measles pavilion will be located at the entrance to Kiddieland No. 2, near Storybook Farm.

This project represents the first time immunizations have been given at a County Fair in the state of California.

Ontario Pomona Association for Retarded Children has announced that it is registering students for the Fall Day School term at its new school building 9160 Monte Vista Avenue in Montclair.

Individual consultations will be scheduled on Sept. 7 and 8 from 9 a.m. to noon. Parents and guardians are requested to call 986-4369 or 626-5108 in advance for an appointment.

OPARC accepts mentally retarded children from the ages of 2 1/2 to 17. It provides three classes, five days a week, from 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. This is the first session of school to be held in the new building which has been constructed with funds earned by parents and friends and by gifts and donations from individuals and groups in the surrounding communities.

The Day School has been held in the Temple Baptist Church for the past nine years. For the first time in OPARC's 17 year history the two services, Day School and Habilitation Center will be under the same roof. The Habilitation Center provides vocational training and sheltered employment for handicapped people 16 years and older.

The Day School staff is headed by Mrs. Maurice C. Williams of Montclair, principal, who has been with OPARC for 16 years. Mrs. Lee Travers of Upland is in charge of teenage classes. Mrs. Harry Swannlund of Riverside heads the Intermediate class, with Mrs. Charles Gerrard of Upland assisting. Kindergarten and Nursery age children are taught by Mrs. Tom Sims of Upland, assistant Mrs. Otis Hight of Upland.

An agency of the West End United Fund and the United Way, Inc., OPARC serves the needs of the retarded from Alta Loma, Chino, Claremont, Cucamonga, Diamond Bar, Eltwarda, Guasti, La Verne, Montclair, Ontario, Pomona, Upland, Walnut, San Dimas, and surrounding communities.

40TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRANTS -- Mr. and Mrs. David B. Hall of 620 N. First Ave., Upland.

Smiths repeat vows on 25th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bill L. Smith, 1534 Columbine Way, Upland, repeated their wedding vows beneath a floral arch in the garden of their home on August 22, in commemoration of their 25th wedding anniversary.

As a surprise to the honorees, the members of the original wedding party were present and participated in the ceremony. Officiating was the Rev. Will South, retired minister, now residing in Yucaipa.

The brother of the bride, Robert V. Snider of Ontario, gave Mrs. Smith in marriage 25 years ago and again at this ceremony; best man was Gerald Hayes of Upland; maid - of - honor, Betty Greska, Ontario.

Hosts for the event were Barry and Karen Smith, son and daughter-in-law; Phyllis and Stewart Kushin, daughter and son-in-law; Sandra Smith, daughter; Bob Smith, son; and Claudia Golliber, niece, all of Upland.

The couple was married in the Upland Nazarene Church on August 22, 1942. Both of the honorees grew up in the West End area and have made their home in Upland since their marriage.

Mr. Smith is the Business License Officer of Upland, and Mrs. Smith is a teacher at the Corona Avenue School in the Ontario School District.

The honored couple are active members of the Upland Nazarene Church. He is a member of the church board and is Superintendent of Transportation for the Sunday School. She is a co-director of the junior church.

Among the 72 guests were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of Upland, and the groom's 96 year old grandmother, Mrs. Winnie Shugart of Ontario.

Orthopedic Hospital admits boy

Upland youth, Richard Duarte, 5, son of Mrs. Catalina Garcia, 1127 Myrtle Drive, was among recent admissions to Orthopaedic Hospital, Los Angeles.

The largest non-profit medical center for crippled children in the West, Orthopaedic Hospital recently expanded to include a new $4 million diagnostic and treatment center adjacent to the 162 - bed hospital. The majority of the hospital's patients are youngsters whose parents pay according to ability. Cost for one child's treatment, in some cases, can exceed $15,000, yet no child is turned away regardless of inability to pay.

Orthopaedic Hospital is a member of the Los Angeles County United Way as well as 28 other Southern California united and community fund agencies.

David Halls mark 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. David B. Hall, 620 N. First St., Upland, were feted at a surprise open house reception Sunday afternoon in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary.

The party, held in the fellowship hall of Upland Brethren in Christ Church was attended by approximately 250 guests from Upland, Ontario, Chino, Claremont, Pomona, San Diego, Chula Vista, Escondido, Santa Monica, Pasadena and Monrovia.

Guests were also present from Covina, Cucamonga, Alta Loma, Rialto, Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino, Topeka, Kan., and Morrison, Ill.

The anniversary couple's five grandchildren also attended.

The surprise party was planned and arranged by Mr. and Mrs. John Hall of Upland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diaz of Upland and Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Harbaugh of San Diego. Mr. Hall is a son of the honored couple and Mrs. Diaz is a daughter, the former Barbara Hall. Mrs. Harbaugh is a sister to Mrs. David Hall.

Many close friends of the couple assisted with refreshments and the guest book throughout the afternoon.

The bride wore a pink dress for her anniversary celebration and was presented with a chenille orchid corsage made by her daughter - in - law, Mrs. John Hall.

Ruby and white chenille ornaments decorated the anniversary tree under which were placed cards brought by guests and received in the mail from all parts of the United States, Canada, Africa and India. Cablegrams were received from Kenya, Africa and the Philippines.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall were married August 23, 1927 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Engle, of Upland.

They moved to Northern

Rhodesia, Africa in 1932 where both served in mission work for the Brethren in Christ Church.

In 1939 they returned to the United States for an 18 month furlough. When returning to Africa in 1941 they were passengers on the ill fated Egyptian Liner Zam Zam which was taken by the Germans.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and their two small children were rescued and taken to German occupied France and then returned to the United States.

Later, they again returned to Africa and were stationed in Southern Rhodesia until 1952. From 1952 until 1955 Mr. Hall was employed by the Upland News and from 1955 to 1966 he worked for the Riverside Press Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall are now busy making a scrapbook of all their beautiful cards, each one a treasured reminder of the many wonderful friendships they have made during their lifetime.

HE THERE -- My name is Heidi, my father's name is Daddy, I guess that makes me Heidi Daddy. Heidi was photographed at the Alta Loma High School following a dip in the pool. She was very reluctant to give her last name. In fact, she wouldn't. . . so meet Heidi Daddy.

by Walt Oniz

It looks as if we will have some new gun control laws in California, the count and content still undecided by the State Legislature.

I've been critical of most attempts to control guns, because most of them have been hysterical "panaceas" suggested since President Kennedy was assassinated with a mail order rifle.

And I've been particularly critical of Senator Tom Dodd of Connecticut, who tried hard and in vain to curb imported guns.

Only reason I could see for his drive against the imports was that his state is the home of three of the biggest American gun manufacturers, and imported army rifles from all over the world sell pretty cheap and hurt the sales of Connecticut firms' rifles.

He has had Oswald's imported mail-order rifle on his side, but he hasn't gotten far. One proposed revision in federal licensing was to raise the license fee from $10 annually to $100. Will $90 stop a million dollar business?

However, I can see no harm in a law against carrying a loaded weapon on the streets of a city. Who needs it? So far most of us don't.

I predicted a couple of years ago that the way things were going--supreme court decisions, other court decisions, ad nauseum--that we might all have to start packing a 45 to protect ourselves on the streets within 5 to 10 years.

I also added neighborhood patrols during the night, maybe even during the day, for self defense.

But right now, I have hopes that the no-loaded-gun law will help a little. It will at least permit the Police to lock up anyone carrying a loaded firearm on a city street.

It will not prevent anyone determined to commit a crime--armed robbery or murder--from laying hands on a gun and going about his "business."

But if the Police catch him at it, they will have a new sound reason for taking him off the street.

Registration of concealable weapons bought by mail doesn't disturb me in the least, no more than registration of concealable guns bought in a local store.

And delivery of a gun several days after purchase so police can check records of the purchaser, or so the buyer can cool off a little, in case he's buying a gun because he's mad at someone, bothers me not at all.

Laws to prevent persons from buying, possessing, and using anti-tank guns, machine guns, and other non-sporting, weapons of war are good. No one really needs such heavy artillery around the house.

So far I've refrained from buying an arsenal. I don't need one, and if I don't, does anyone else? Only for hunting deer, bear, pheasants, and other game.

Despite my dire predictions, I haven't gone over to the side of the alarmists who stock up on bazookas and rockets. Things aren't that bad here, yet. Until they get pretty bad, we don't all need guns to blow off our friends and families' heads by mistake.

I will reserve the right though, to consider keeping a firearm at home, if I feel it is necessary.

I pray it won't ever be.

Kiwanians make surprise gift

Upland Kiwanis Club has made an unusual gift to the Museum of the Chaffey Communities Cultural Center.

When the Museum attendants arrived last Wednesday, they were greeted by the sight of 10 azalea plants.

They immediately began plans to round up volunteer helpers to plant them. But when they returned the following Saturday, their Kiwanis benefactors had already planted them.

The new plantings are on view together with the rapidly growing displays inside on Monday, Wednesday and Saturdays from one to four o'clock, at 525 W. 18th Upland.

Out of state visitors to the Museum this summer have come from Pittsburgh, Penna., New York City, Iowa and Arizona.

PROGRAM OVER -- The Alta Loma Recreation program for the summer has ended and things must be put away. Mary Pollock, (right) instructor for some of the programs, helps one of her assistants gather and count tennis balls to be stored. The program which was just started this year was called a success by the people of Alta Loma and by the Recreation Department of the community. They are looking forward to even bigger and better things next year.

'He's the man' says victim of robbery

One of the FBI's ten most wanted men has been apprehended here in Upland and has been positively identified by owner Beryl (Bud) Strom of Ontario as one of the men who held up the Harris Pharmacy, 205 N. Second Ave., last Wednesday evening, Aug. 23.

Donald R. Bussmeyer, wanted by the FBI in connection with a bank robbery in Los Angeles is in custody along with his wife and a friend, Gene Harrington, both charged with harboring a criminal.

Strom, owner of the pharmacy, which was broken into, said, "There's no doubt about it, he's the man who jabbed the gun in my ribs and I have the bruises to prove it." Strom has not as yet identified the other man involved in the robbery as being Harrington.

Approximately $500 in checks and cash and a quantity of narcotics was taken at gunpoint, as the bandits forced their way in the front door at closing time and ordered a clerk, Audrey Irving, 37, of Upland to "get on the floor."

"One man remained in front and the other ran into the prescription room," she said.

"The man with the gun said he wanted narcotics, so he pointed out the narcotics drawers," Strom said.

The money taken was in three sacks marked Upland First National Bank.

Strom said Tuesday, Aug. 29, that when Bussmeyer was picked up by the FBI he still had in his possession checks and sacks that could be positively identified as those taken in the pharmacy robbery.

What is prohibited in new gasoline service stations should also apply to existing stations, the Upland Planning Commission has decided, meaning small equipment rental, including trailers, and outside storage of tires and similar goods.

Commissioners agreed that what was fair for one

TEN SHUN -- Bertines J. Zwaagstra a Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) candidate, calls his platoon to order in the leadership phase of officer training at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va. Zwaagstra, a senior attending Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo, has recently completed the 10-week PLC combined summer training session which leads to a commission in the Marine Corps upon receipt of a college degree. The PLC summer training program provides the opportunity for college males to be commissioned in the Marines upon their graduation from college in much the same way the other was fair for all, and set a two-year limit on present non-conforming rental and outside storage uses of stations.

Included in the amendment is a ban on expanding such uses, and an end to such uses on station locations where the use has been discontinued for six months.

He lives in Ontario with his wife, Jo Ann, and their daughter, Robin, two years old.

Church Has "Racism" Discussion

The subject of "Racism" was the topic of a program at the meeting of the Etiwanda Youth Fellowship last Sunday evening at the Etiwanda Congregational Church.

The program, given by Reverend Lone, pastor of the local church, was a discussion and slides of the riot in Watts two years ago. Rev. Lone based his discussion on the work he had done for the Governor's Commission which was formed to study the reasons and effects of the riot.

OEO political activity ban introduced

Congressman Jerry Pettis has introduced legislation that, if approved, would prohibit the OEO from participating in political activities. The legislation would ban OEO involvement in any political activities in a partisan or non-partisan election and also working for the election or defeat of any candidate.

Pettis stated that OEO would be ordered not to participate in any voter registration drive. 24 Congressmen have supported Congressman Pettis' legislation.

Our men in service

Marine Corporal Gilbert A. Martinez, son of Mrs. Jennie Morales of 650 E. Eighth St., Upland, and husband of the former Miss Elsie G. Gonzalez of 1563 Shirley Place, Pomona, has reported to the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, in Santa Ana, Calif. for duty with Wing Equipment Repair Squadron 37.

El Toro, is the home of the Third Marine Aircraft Wing, which is an aviation counterpart to a Marine infantry division, constantly in training and ready to move at a moment's notice to any trouble spot in the world.

Army Specialist Four Charles K. Hughes, 21, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Hughes, and wife, Pamela, live at 8300 Bella Vista, Alta Loma, was assigned to 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces, in Vietnam, Aug. 9. Special Forces was created by the Department of the Army to provide, in time of war, a unit through which the Army can develop and employ guerrilla warfare forces against the enemy in support of military operations.

Spec. Hughes, a medic, entered the Army in December 1965 and was last stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

The specialist graduated in 1963 from Upland High School, Upland, Calif., and attended Chaffey College.

Marine Private Kenneth A. Kessler, son of Mrs. Dolores A. Kessler of 1265 Memorial Court, Upland, was graduated from eight weeks of recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego.

He will now undergo about three weeks of individual combat training and then, after leave at home, will report to his first Marine Corps assignment.

The intensified Marine recruit training emphasizes rigid physical conditioning and survival techniques, both at sea and ashore, to develop self-confidence and endurance. Marksmanship with the M-14 rifle and 45 calibre pistol are equally stressed, and close order drill instills the traditions of Marine Corps teamwork.

A thorough study of basic military subjects; hygiene; first aid and sanitation; and the customs, courtesies, history and mission of the Marine Corps serve to polish the new Marine's recruit education and prepare him to join Marine combat forces.

Assessment average changed, but little

The average property assessment in San Bernardino County was confirmed today at 21.2% of market value, up .4% from the preliminary July figure, by the State Board of Equalization.

Southern California Member Richard Nevins reported that six county ratios were raised fractionally after further discussion with some assessors. Eight others were raised fractionally by assessed value technical changes, and three dropped slightly.

The statewide average rose one-tenth of one percent to 23.2 percent. This figure, along with the county average, is a key factor in the distribution of about $365 million in school aid.

The average percentage of market value (ratio) in each county also may be used under an assessment appeals provision in 1966 property tax reform legislation.

Counties whose assessors proved the need for adjustments were: Alameda, up 0.1%; Contra Costa, up 0.2%; Lake, up 1.6%; Orange, up 0.2%; San Bernardino, up 0.4%; and San Joaquin, 0.4%.

Forty-eight assessors this year chose to assess at 25 per cent of market value. By law they could choose any figure between 20-25 per cent until 1971. Ten assessors chose lower ratios.

Nevins explained "the average assessment level that we find is usually lower than the assessor's choice because two things occur: No California assessor presently can appraise his whole county in one year. Some need as many as four. During this time property values are rising. Our sample puts new values on some properties with outdated county values. This lowers the assessor's average, but not his goal."

Jewish cooking to antiques...

A baker's dozen of day-time programs - ranging from estate planning to Jewish cooking - are being offered by University of California Extension this fall.

Thirteen daytime programs from one day to several weeks in length will meet this fall, most in Riverside. Longer programs start in mid-September.

There are courses on new fabrics for family and home, writing the children's novel, and collecting and using antiques.

They are one-day conferences on planning the family estate and the art of being a "friendly visitor."

For children age six to 16, Extension is offering a new afternoon French course. And for those who don't know the difference between a balk and a block, there's a program for spectators on baseball, football and basketball.

Programs on local birds, the American historical novel, discipline and control of children, developing personal potential, and "The Transparent Self" are included in Extension's new fall catalog.

For a free catalog listing these and some 140 other programs in 25 nearby communities, write University of California Extension, Riverside, or the local Chamber of Commerce.

By the year 2000, the United States could have electric generating units in the 3 to 4 million kilowatt range, reports the Edison Electric Institute, trade association of the nation's investor-owned electric power companies. The largest unit in operation today is capable of generating one million kilowatts.

TB Tests Available In Area

Bells have been ringing, telephone bells, that is, at the West End Health Center. There have been a great many calls about the hours the chest x-ray and TB skin testing services are available at the Center, 1020 West Sixth St., Ontario.

The hours for chest x-rays and TB skin tests are from 1 to 4 p.m. Mondays, except the third Monday of each month, when the hours are 4 to 8 p.m.

"We'd like to remind school personnel that they will need their annual chest x-ray or TB skin test report soon after school opens," said Dr. J. A. Scharffenberg, TB Control Officer. "We try to get these reports out quickly, but it does take time to develop chest x-rays, read them and send out the report. When people come in late for this service, we can't always get the report to them as quickly as they may need it."

"Anyone who has never had a tuberculin skin test or who has had a negative test before should take advantage of this service," added Dr. Scharffenberg.

"The skin test tells a person whether they have ever been infected with TB germs, while the chest x-ray will only indicate that there is no apparent disease in the chest.

If someone has a positive skin test, it doesn't mean they have TB. A chest x-ray is then necessary to be sure there is no active disease. However, the person who has a positive test may be more likely to develop TB at a future time."

"The Health Department is recommending prophylactic treatment for these individuals. Consequently, we are urging that people coming in to the Health Center for chest x-rays also be skin tested," stated Dr. Scharffenberg.

Trash schedule: no changes

HS teachers salaries

we can divorce the cost of student per teacher from salary discussion.

Cushing said that a statewide survey showed the CUHS District was near the top in the state in the cost of teacher per pupil.

"Including counselors," Ulla Bauer chimed in. He was chairman of a teacher salary committee and lead spokesman for the teachers at Upland, Montclair, Alta Loma, Chaffey and Ontario High Schools.

Cushing replied that counselors had taken a great load off from teachers, to which Bauers countered, "or administrators."

Bob Lindzey of the Alta Loma faculty, a member of the salary committee, spoke also in defense of higher salaries for teachers with longer service.

He said teachers are first to admit that everyone from college with a credential doesn't belong in the CUHS District, and all who start in the district shouldn't be given tenure.

But stability depends on the teachers with more tenure, Lindzey commented. "Give us the $350,000 as a challenge," he added, a challenge to see that the children of the district get nothing less than the best in the classrooms.

It was estimated that the increase in teacher pay would add up to approximately $348,000, and the 2% to the classified personnel would account for $31,500.

From the discussion, it would appear that in the future there would be some discussion of adjustment of the ratio of highest pay to the starting pay, or a starting pay divorced from the highest pay (after 13 years of service, and a BA or MA with considerable study beyond the degree).

President Ben Allen, after the other four trustees had commented on the efficiency reflected in the high teacher per pupil cost and a desire for a higher starting salary, said he did not think the discussion appropriate at Monday's meeting, but that the salary schedule should and index system (ratio of pay up the line to starting pay) should be constantly reappraised.

Allen noted that the salary schedule giving the top paid teacher 2.07 times the starting salary was the schedule previously approved by the Board.

Draper said he couldn't agree less. "Next year the starting salary is going to SCHOOL WORK -- For the last month many seldom seen workers have been preparing for the opening of school in all of the districts in the local area. Here the Etiwanda School is getting a new air conditioning system in one of the class rooms. (TIMES photo)

Local Students Take State Scholarships

Two local students have been honored by the State of California for their scholastic achievements and have received scholarships for the 1967-68 academic year from the California State Scholarship and Loan Commission.

Bonnie A. Kimball of 8115 Tapia Via, Cucamonga received a scholarship as a result of her academic work at the University of California at Riverside. She is in her senior year at the University majoring in English. Miss Kimball plans to work toward her credential in elementary teaching and possibly work in the Head Start program.

She has been active in the Head Start Program in Ontario for the summer. A graduate of Upland High School, she worked for the school newspaper and did some acting work in the senior class play. She was a member of the Quill and Scroll, a national journalism association and a member of the Tri-Hill-Y at Upland.

Miss Kimball attended Chaffey College for two years and received an AA degree in English before transferring to Riverside.

Schools Open

School will open in the local area on September 11 and some 61,000 students and 2,500 teachers in the West End are preparing for it.

The district boards of education in this area have approved the budgets, the new teachers have been hired, the buildings are being prepared through construction, clean-up, and general maintenance.

The Guasti School District where some 35 students attend classes has topped all school districts in the West End with an assessed tax valuation of $182,091 supporting each unit of anticipated average daily attendance.

Some of the major tax assessment figures for school districts are not yet final as appeals are still being heard by the County Board of Supervisors.

Women Judge Flower Show

Two members of the Cucamonga Alta Loma Woman's Club, Mrs. Maude Bonillas, District Garden Chairman and Mrs. Michael O'Flaherty, and Mrs. B. M. Pace of Pomona, a member of the California Garden Clubs Inc., were judges at a flower show given by the Big Bear Lake Woman's Club, September 15. Mrs. Wm. P. Hughes was in charge of the flower show.

There were displays of very attractive arrangements of flowers from the gardens of the members, as well as interesting and lovely arrangements of wild flowers. The Forest Service also had a display of pine tree branches and cones from trees in the area. These were especially lovely this year, due to the heavy rains.

'Twinkling 20th S.B. Fair opens run Wednesday

Park your cars at the gate, opening at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30, for the "Twinkling 20th" San Bernardino County Fair was made for fun. Six big days of it, 10 a.m. - 10 p.m.

Peel back the calendar to those fondly remembered days of blue ribbons, fat pumpkins, fancy preserves and prizes... the smell of hay and a livestock auction, horseracing thrills and rodeo spills... a big parade, band concerts, rides on the midway, champion horse-shoe pitching, cooking school, a milking contest, an art show, coin and gemstone collections, community exhibits, a rodeo queen contest and nightly teen dances.

Add some modern twists: the "Daily Dipodomys Doodle" (desert kangaroo rat jumping contest) at 6:30 p.m.; "Tiny Town, USA" and a "thrashers' dinner" (elk, venison, beef) at noon Sept. 2; "Mayors' Sweep-Steaks" cook-in, 1 p.m. Sept. 4; Best-of-fair apple-ple baking Aug.

31, Sept. 2, finals Sept. 4; cooking school 1 p.m. Aug. 31-Sept. 1-2-3. Major attractions are: State Championships Rodeo, 7 p.m. Friday-Saturday-Sunday, Sept. 1-2-3. Horse-races (Apaloosa, Thoroughbred, Quarterhorse) five days, Aug. 31-Sept. 4. Four daily, 1 p.m. Nightly teen-time dances at 9. Daily attractions also include: Aug. 30: Rodeo queen contest (14 entries), finals at grandstand, 7 p.m. Family-fair trophies.

Aug. 31: Senior Citizens Day of prizes, events, home-spun contests like butter-churning, corn-husking, Barbershop quartet, Nick Lucas and Tulara Lee at grandstand, 7:30 p.m. Sept. 1: Dairy Day, visits by state and district princesses Mary Lou King and Karen Shaw. Awards luncheon, "fee" "milk break" Milking contest, 4-H, Farmerettes. Livestock Auction, 2:30 and 7 p.m. Sept. 2: Chambers of Commerce Day parade at 10 a.m. County champion horseshoe pitching begins. Sept. 3: Grange Day - Kids' Day (under 16, free; reduced rates on rides to 6 p.m.); Picnic, program. Sept. 4 (Labor Day): Military Appreciation Day, exhibits, demonstrations. All-mutt show at 11 a.m. Apple-ple-baking finals. A "tall man in the saddle," Sheriff Frank Bland, will be grand marshal of the Saturday, Sept. 2, big parade during the fair. A big man physically, Bland matches that with his professional ability and dedication, as well as popularity. Bland served also in 1962 as grand marshal. A "working sheriff," he had quietly led his men into a modern, efficient law enforcement program considered outstanding in the state when the county fair was dedicated to him, in 1958. His tall figure has become a familiar sight in parades across the county. He's an expert horseman. He was elected the county's 13th sheriff in 1955. He has served as Needles police chief since 1946. Born in Needles in 1915, Bland's father was a railway conductor. Young Bland, too, was a brake man before he landed a job as night watchman. It turned him toward a career in law enforcement. A husky youth, Bland was a star athlete, swimmer and sportsman. He attended FBI Training Academy at Washington, D.C., and served in North Dakota before becoming a Marine gunnery sergeant during the bloody Pacific campaign in World War II. He returned to law enforcement on his return from the service. Free cactus souvenirs of the "Twinkling 20th" will be sent as long as they last, says Secretary-Mgr. Oren C. Robertson. Due to postal regulations, they cannot be sent out of state, however; and the limit is only one per person. An Opuntia ursina, "Grizzly Bear" cactus, with instructions for its care, was picked for its ease of care, its hardy nature and the yellow flowers it bears each spring. Requests should be addressed on a postcard (no letters) to "Cactus, PO Box 820, Victorville, Calif. 92392."

Two final words of caution: the offer ends with the last day of the fair, Labor Day, Sept. 4. And if you get a cactus spine in your finger, it's your own fault. Remember "Tiptoe Through the Tulips?" If you do, chances are you remember Nick Lucas, "the singing troubador" and such other hits of the day as "Rose-Colored Glasses" and "Side by Side."

He'll cap a day-to-remember -- and a day of reminiscing -- Thursday, Aug. 31, for Senior Citizens at the day at the county fair. Lucas introduced the guitar to radio audiences long before today's craze for the stringed instrument caught hold. Says Bing Crosby of crooner Lucas: "If the disc jockeys had been on hand when Nick Lucas first hit his stride, he'd be the biggest name in show business."

Lucas has been on the air, the screen and variety stages throughout America, and has toured Europe and Australia. He was featured performer on the Ken Murray Blackouts for 100 consecutive weeks. He appeared in such motion pictures as "Gold Diggers of Broadway," "Show of Shows" and in Broadway musicals like Ziegfeld's "Show Girl" and "Sweetheart Time."

Seniors will wind up a day of fun and contests with the grandstand show that night. Adding sparkle to the show, beginning at 7:30, will be the sweet harmony of the Victor Valley group of barbershop singers. Lucas will follow, later sharing the spotlight with Tulara Lee and her comedy acrobatic act. Both are veterans of the county fair circuit. Some of the day's events will include a costume contest, on the "Twinkling 20th" 1967 county fair theme and the "Roaring 20s." It will begin with judging of a new feature, a poetry-writing contest.

Jackson completes summer institute

Don Jackson, social studies teacher at Upland High School has successfully completed a summer NDEA Institute in American History on the "Role of Minority Groups in American History," at San Fernando Valley State College, Northridge.

The U.S. Office of Education sponsors these new programs for experienced social studies teachers only. Jackson was one of 40 participants selected from over 500 applicants from the southwestern United States. Participants in the program took two graduate level history courses dealing with minority groups. Emphasis was placed on the role of the Mexican-American and the Negro in American history. Recent scholarship has shown that both groups have been relatively "invisible" in typical history courses. In addition, workshop sessions were held in the afternoons on problems of teaching history.

The institute was a full time commitment. Enrollees and staff ate lunch and dinner together. They also participated in many other activities such as field trips, a Tuesday evening visiting lecture program, a Thursday evening vintage film series, and various social activities.

Jackson and the other participants gained valuable experience as they associated with college historians, social studies specialists, visiting scholars, and with other master teachers. The unique experience is part of a national effort to improve the teaching of history in the schools. Submitted by: Dr. Raymond McHugh Director

196TH FIGHTER SQ.

VIGILANCE VALOR VICTORY

FLIGHT INSTRUCTIONS--Lt. Col. Donald Frisbie, standing, deputy commander for operations, 163d Fighter Group of the Air Defense Command, is briefing the men of the 196th Fighter Interceptor Squadron before take off on their appointed training mission. This briefing includes the weather conditions, number of aircraft participating, information on the target, and time of departure and return.

GETTING HIS GEAR--Capt. Robert Tanons, Alta Loma, is collecting the rest of his gear before boarding his F-102A jet interceptor. In hand is his NADAR can, which contains the recording tape for his mission. On return, the effectiveness of his flight will be evaluated with this tape.

STRAPPING IN--After a pre-flight check around his "bird" to confirm its readiness and tip-top condition, Capt. Tanons climbs in the cockpit and fastens his harness. When he's completely strapped in and ready to go, he starts his engine and taxis out to the last inspection before take off.

Constant vigil

'Weekend Warriors'? on guard always

by Walt Orvis

Weekend Warriors?

Well, it used to be that way, but the 196th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron at Ontario International Airport isn't a flyboy's weekend escape from the wife.

Flying for fun? Well, the pilots do seem to enjoy their work, but there's a deadly serious purpose in the prime activity of that airbase in miniature at OIA, the 163rd Fighter Group ADC of the California Air National Guard.

Should enemy bombers ever try to fly in and drop their deadly eggs, they would have to get past some dedicated, experienced fighter-interceptor pilots of the 196th before they could, and that might not be too easy.

Those jets, the F-102A Convair Delta Daggers that the 196th flies out of OIA, can be in the air in five minutes or less.

A "minimum number" are kept armed and ready, should there be an alert, and pilots are on duty to fly those planes 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The 163rd Fighter Group is actually performing the same mission as other regular Air Force units in the Air Defense Command.

Not just pilots who fly occasionally like the "week-end warriors" of several years ago, but pilots who may be flying commercial passenger jets on their regular jobs, but who meet the same training requirements as the Air Force regulars.

California Air National Guard pilots of the 196th have to "fill all the squares" of regular Air Force pilots.

We sat in on a training mission of the 196th, from the time Lt. Col. Donald Frisbie, commander of operations, gave the pilots their information on the mission, until the four planes returned to base.

They didn't fire any missiles or rockets at the "enemy" plane coming in from west of San Clemente Island, but they know how well they did in the shooting department.

In this electronic age, pilots fly onto target by radar, their face buried in the radar screen when they are near an enemy plane.

Instead of actually firing their homing missiles on rockets, their target practice is recorded on a tape that plays back in an electronic device, showing on a radar screen exactly what the pilot did in his target runs.

The "enemy" plane on the training mission we witnessed was an Air Force B-57 Canberra light bomber. Instead of being loaded with bombs, it was loaded with all kinds of little black boxes, electronic radar jammers, and chaff to fool the radar in the 102's.

But the pilots and their electronic aids are hard to fool. When the "enemy" tries to fool the pilots and their radar, the pilots develop a little of a bulldog attitude, and hang in there. The playback on the radar tape demonstrates the ability of the pilot, his plane and equipment to protect Southern California from enemy bombers, despite their attempts to evade the 102's, their well trained pilots and the computerized electronic gear such as the radar.

To keep up their skills the pilots fly at least a couple of times a week, spend one week end a month on duty, eight hours each on Saturday and Sunday.

Pilots of the 196th come from as far away as San Diego and the San Fernando Valley.

Why? we asked, knowing we were talking to a pretty well paid airline pilot, who could be spending the time with his family (up to 15 days a month actually on duty).

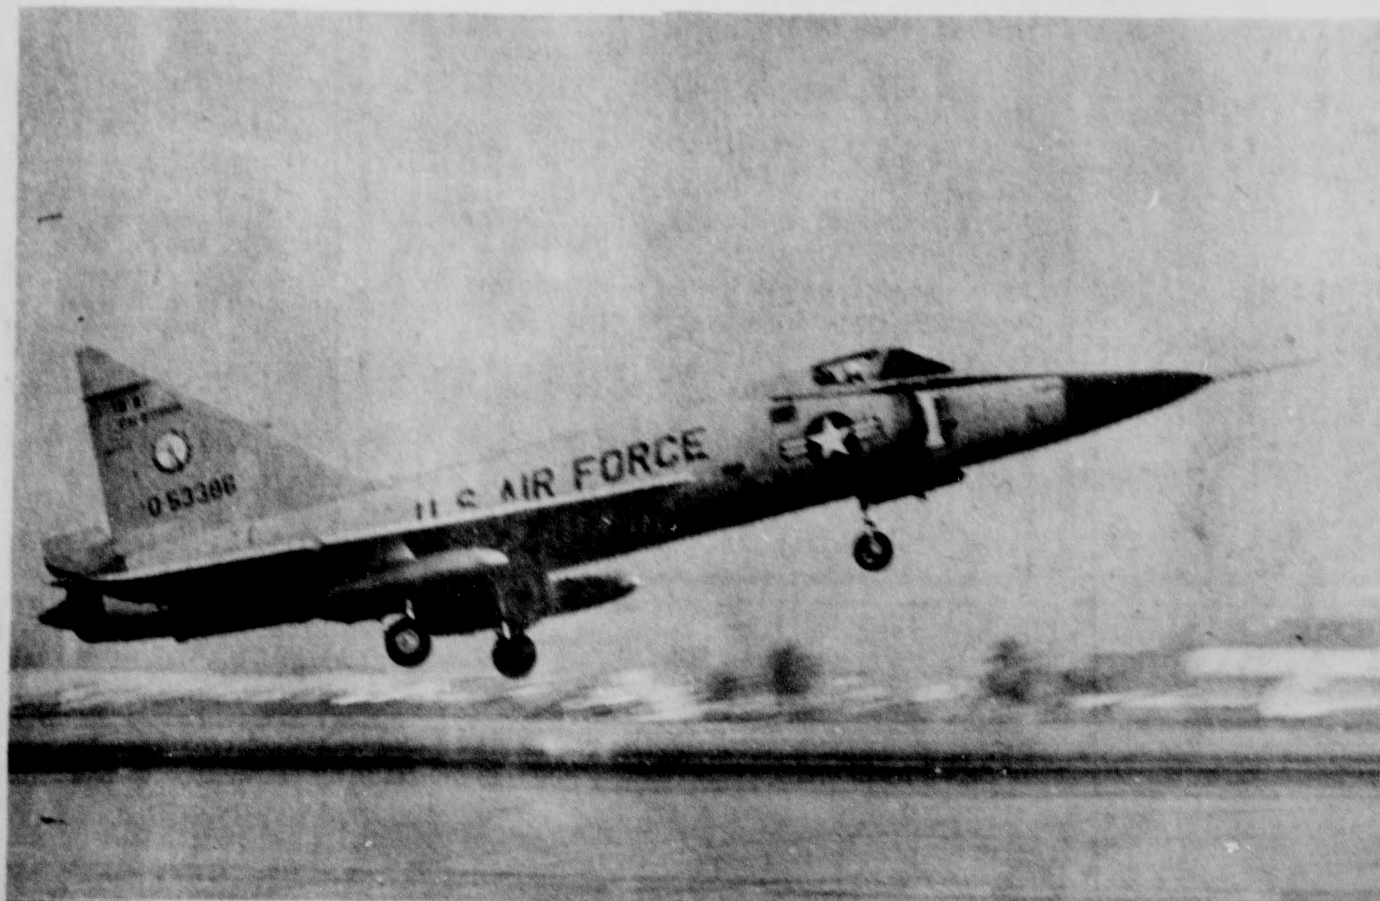

"It's worth doing," was the gist of the answer. The pilots believe in the Air National Guard's commitment to protect the rest of us from what none of us wants to contemplate.

FINAL CHECK--This is the "last chance" inspection for Capt. Tanons' delta dagger. Before taking his position on the runway, ground crewman MSGT William Griggs, Montclair, center, and SSGT Charles Stark, Upland, under the wing, will give the bird its final going-over before it wings into the air.

TARGET PLANE--This B-57 is the target the delta daggers will seek out and try to "shoot" down. The smoke comes from the black powder charges used to start the engines. It carries various equipment to jam the radar of the F-102's so they can't get a shot at it, but the tenuous airplanes kept right on its tail.

LIFT OFF--Everything is A-OK, so pilot and plane gather up speed and take off into the blue summer sky. All of this getting ready--from the time the alert is sounded until the dagger is in the air--should take the men five minutes or less. Once in the air, their object is to get that target, in this case, a B-57.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL--After the jets complete their mission, they return with their NADAR cans and evaluate its success. This delta dagger is a TF-102A, a training fighter. To slow the plane down after landing, the pilot pops the drag chute, brings the machine to a roll, and parks it back in its assigned place until the next alert is sounded.
